Grafton Historical Society Goes To The 1893 Chicago World's Fair

Close your eyes. Envision what it would look like if the world's greatest achievements and inventions were collected in one place. In 1893, this vision was realized at the Chicago World's Fair. Come take a trip back in time with historical interpreter Patricia Perry of Sneak Peek Productions as the Grafton Historical Society transports you to a world of wonder filled with light, treasures and forbidden delights.
